

JuniorDraft Author Guidelines

Introduction

JuniorDraft is committed to providing a platform for young authors to showcase their creativity and research. We accept a wide range of submissions, including research articles, reviews, essays, creative writing, and multimedia presentations. Our goal is to nurture young talent and provide constructive feedback to help authors refine their skills.

Submission Categories

We welcome submissions in the following categories:

- Research Articles
- Review Articles
- Essays and Creative Writing
- News Articles
- Poster Presentations
- Paintings and Drawings
- Short Articles
- Multimedia Presentations (Images, Screenshots, Videos)

Each submission should include a brief description (maximum 150 words) summarizing the content and purpose of the work.

Manuscript Organization

Submissions should generally include the following sections:

1. Title: A concise and descriptive title (maximum 30 words).
2. Authors and Affiliations: Include full names, affiliations, and designate a corresponding author.
3. Abstract: A summary of the work, including background, methods, findings, and conclusions (maximum 150 words).

4. Introduction: Provide context and explain the purpose of the work.
5. Methods: Detail the methodology used, ensuring reproducibility.
6. Results: Present findings with supporting data, graphs, and images.
7. Discussion: Interpret the results, discuss implications, and suggest future directions.
8. References: List all sources cited in the manuscript.
9. Acknowledgments: Recognize contributors who do not meet authorship criteria.
10. Funding and Competing Interests: Disclose funding sources and any potential conflicts of interest.

Formatting Guidelines

- Use clear and concise language suitable for a broad audience.
- Adhere to the specific formatting requirements for each submission category.
- Include high-resolution images and graphs where applicable.
- Ensure all references are properly formatted and cited.

Review Process

All submissions undergo a rigorous review process:

1. Initial Screening: Verification of submission details and adherence to guidelines.
2. Content Review: Evaluation of originality, quality, and relevance.
3. Feedback and Revision: Authors receive constructive feedback and may be asked to revise their work.
4. Final Approval: Approved submissions are formatted and prepared for publication.

Ethical Considerations

JuniorDraft upholds the highest ethical standards. Submissions must be original and free from plagiarism. Authors are responsible for obtaining necessary permissions for any copyrighted material included in their work.

Multimedia and Supporting Files

We encourage the inclusion of multimedia files to enhance the presentation of the work. Files should be high-quality and adhere to our technical specifications.
